EARTH QUAKES IN CHILE

Valparaiso Reported to Be Ruined by Quake and Fire.

NEWS IS INDEFINITE

ABSENCE OF OFFICIAL INFORMATION LEADS TO BELIEF THAT REPORTS HAVE BEEN EXAGGERATED.

What appears to be positive confirmation of the many rumors of the destruction of property and loss of life consequent upon the earthquake shocks in the vicinity of Valparaiso is contained in an Associated Press dispatch received early today (Saturday) from Galveston, Texas.

The cable office in that city communicating direct with Valparaiso learned that Valparaiso was in a turmoil, buildings were wrecked, with the belief that a great loss of life had occurred.

Importance of this dispatch is that it gives the first news that shocks continued Friday. This information is confirmed by the report from Baldwin, Kan., that the seismograph in the government observatory there recorded a shock at 7:27 o'clock Friday morning.

Early advices reported shocks not later than midnight Saturday.

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—A cable dispatch to a morning paper from Lima, Peru, says:

About 8 o'clock on Thursday evening, there was a tremendous earthquake at Valparaiso.

As at San Francisco the shock was followed by the starting of many fires. The flames extending from the Plaza Orden toward the north have not yet been extinguished. Many houses have been destroyed and nearly all of those in the city are more or less damaged (sic), by the earthquake or fire.

Business is at a standstill. The banks are closed. The gas is unavoidable and electric lighting system is completely knocked out.

The greatest panic prevails among the inhabitants. Many families are fleeing from the city.

The weather is fair and the sea calm. Communication with Santiago de Chile is interrupted and it is impossible to learn if it has been affected.

Many persons were killed and injured in Valparaiso.

The shocks continue but are much lighter than at first. The streets which suffered most were Calles Blanco, Concelland Esmaralda and those in the Delicias district where the best residences are.

Except for a few private messages received yesterday reporting an earthquake in Chile and damage to buildings in Valparaiso, no direct news from Chile has as yet been received. The early reports coming from different points stated that the earthquake had resulted in great loss of life and widespread damage to property. Up to 11 o'clock tonight, however, there had been nothing to confirm these reports.

The Associated Press correspondent at Buenos Ayres cables that it is feared the town of Los Andes in the province of Aconcagua has been destroyed. At the same time he points out that Buenos Ayres has no direct communication with the disturbed district. No official information has reached Washington from Chile and, while positive information is lacking, New York officials of cable companies having connection in South America tonight express the opinion that the first reports of the earthquake were exaggerated. All cables reaching New York from Chile and Valparaiso early tonight were evidently much delayed, according to the statements of these officials, who are themselves unable to get any information bearing on the situation other than the fact that an earthquake has occurred, that the disturbance has destroyed telegraphic apparatus and interfered with communication.

The cable companies and newspapers are making every effort to secure information. The entire absence of any word from official sources in Valparaiso and other points in Chile may be taken as indicating considerable exaggeration in the reports of loss of life and extent of damages.

The reports received from various quarters of the globe regarding the Valparaiso disaster have varied greatly some going so far as to compare the havoc wrought to that of the San Francisco catastrophe, with details much the same.

It is said that the city, at first shaken by the earthquake, took fire and was burning fiercely—many scores of persons perishing in the flames and the ruins of the fallen buildings. The latest of the reports along this line comes by way of London and is to the effect that a Hamburg firm has received a dispatch stating that numerous districts of Chile have been destroyed and that Valparaiso has been practically destroyed, many ships lost and many dead and hundred persons killed. It is added however that the dispatch is not well authenticated. This is one of all dispatches and rumors which purport to give details of the disaster.

The Central office of the Western Union Telegraph company in New York received a service message saying that the Valparaiso office closed at 11:30 o'clock tonight, eastern time.

REUNION OF VETERANS IS ADJOURNED

WILL PROTEST AGAINST ERECTION OF THE HENRY WIRZ STATUE. LET CANTEEN QUESTION ALONE.

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 17.—The Grand Army of the Republic completed its Fortieth encampment late today and adjourned to meet in Saratoga, N. Y. in 1907.

The encampment decided that a protest against the erection of a statue to the memory of Henry Wirz should be sent to General S. D. Lee, the commander of the Southern Veterans association. This action was decided upon only after a long debate which at a time became curtive and acrimonious.

The disposition to deprecate the action of congress in abolishing the canteen from the old soldiers homes was laid upon the table without debate.

Just prior to the final adjournment the new commander-in-chief, R. B. Brown of Zanesville, O., announced the following staff appointments:

Adjutant general, Joseph W. O'Neil of Ohio; quartermaster general, Charles Burrows of New Jersey; assistant quartermaster general, J. H. Halcomb of Philadelphia; chief of staff, J. V. Winanes of Ohio.

When the encampment was called to order this morning the first question up for settlement was the selection of the place for holding the next encampment. The invitation of Saratoga, N. Y., was presented yesterday and that of Cincinnati was made as soon as the meeting was called to order today. The vote proceeded smoothly enough until the name of Kansas was called. Captain P. H. Coney of the Kansas delegation cast his entire 40 votes for Cincinnati. The vote was promptly questioned on the ground that Kansas did not have any such number of delegates in the hall. A long debate ensued, which was ended by the ruling of the commander-in-chief that Kansas could vote only as many men as were actually present. The number happened to be something less than 20. The final vote showed 605 for Saratoga and 175 for Cincinnati.

A delegate from Wisconsin attempted to bring up the canteen question but was squelched summarily, the whole question being laid on the table at once.

William A. Ketcham of Indianapolis, then presented a minority report from the committee on resolutions which had been silent on the question of the proposed statue to Wirz. He moved that an address should be sent to General S. D. Lee, the southern [illegible] of the Veteran association, asking that influence of southern soldiers be against the project. Past Commander F. Torrance of Minneapolis declared that the Grand Army should not, in his opinion, take official cognizance of the matter at this time. Commander-in-chief Tanner, who had urged in his report that a protest should be made against the statue, gave up the chair to make an impassioned appeal from the floor in support of the minority report of Mr. Ketcham. The minority report was adopted by a viva voce vote and apparently by a large majority.

Resolutions were passed asking the secretary of war to purchase the ground on which monuments have been erected on the battlefield of Bull Run, and asking that statistics as accurate as possible of the mortality in southern prisons be issued by the government.

During the day Commander-in-Chief Tanner sent a message to President Roosevelt informing him of the fact that the encampment was in session. To this the following reply was made by the president:

Many thanks for your message. Through you I extend to the Grand Army of the Republic my heartiest greetings not merely personal, but official, in behalf of all the people of this nation whose existence is owing to what you and your comrades did in the heroic days of the Civil war.

(Signed) THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

BANKS SWAMPED BY MONEY FLOOD

DEPOSITS IN FRISCO BANKS EXCEED ALL FORMER RECORDS BY PAYMENT OF INSURANCE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 17.—With money pouring in at the rate of a million dollars a day from insurance alone, the banks of this city are more crowded with deposits than ever before in their history. Comparatively little is being drawn and after all local demands are met with loans there is a small surplus which seeks an outlet.

"We had to send another half million east today," said President William Crocker of the Crocker-Woolworth bank. "I never saw such a plethora of ready money as exists in the city now. We are refusing no applicants for loans here and we are sending big sums to New York where the rates of interest are low. There is just now a demand for money to move the crops of the state and we are responding to this with the usual credit, but still there is more money offering than we wish to carry."

Cashier Palmer of the Humboldt Savings bank said:

"The insurance companies have been paying out a million dollars a day for the past two months and the circulation of such a sum is enough to make money plentiful."

ILLINOIS MAYOR DIES.

CONVENTION WILL FINISH WORK TODAY

PRINTERS WILL ADJOURN ANNUAL MEETING AFTER THIS MORNING'S SESSION.

GREAT VOLUME OF IMPORTANT BUSINESS TRANSACTED YESTERDAY AND LAST NIGHT.

The International Typographical union which has been in session in Colorado Springs since Monday will bring its fifty-second session to a close with this morning's session. Officers, delegates, ex-delegates and visitors unite in agreeing that the convention has not only been one of the most important in the history of the union, but that it has been one of the best attended and that the entertainment on behalf of the local committee could not have been surpassed.

The concluding session will be called at 9 o'clock and will consider the final report of the committee on laws, the report of the committee on the Los Angeles Times and the Philadelphia Inquirer.

Most of the delegates will leave for Denver this afternoon where an elaborate program has been arranged by the Denver Ex-Delegates association. The officers, however, will remain in Colorado Springs for another week at least.

The annual meeting of the Union Printers home corporation will be held Monday, while the meeting of the board of trustees will be on Tuesday.

Much Business Transacted.

In the three sessions of the International Typographical union convention held yesterday a large amount of business was disposed of. In addition to the reports from the eight-hour, Printers home and various other committees, action was taken on a large number of propositions reported back from the committees.

At the morning session, the most important action was the adoption of the amended report of the committee on resolutions favoring the entrance of the International Typographical union in politics on lines suggested by the American Federation of Labor. The resolution as passed is as follows:

"Whereas, the American Federation of Labor has been for years, pleading, begging and petitioning the congress of the United States, to enact into law several measures of great potency, not alone in the interests of the organized trades of the country, but questions which interest the entire wage workers of [illegible] and

[illegible] Such appeals and petitions have been persistently and flagrantly disregarded by the representatives chosen to legislate for all the people, therefore, be it

"Resolved, That the International Typographical union in convention assembled, do hereby heartily indorse the position taken by the executive council of the American Federation of Labor, whereby in the future organized labor will stand by their friends in the legislative halls."

The resolution was introduced by Delegate F. C. Roberts of Washington, and was strongly supported by him, as well as by several other delegates.

Many Recommendations.

The committee on political policy recommended that the International Typographical union stand for the improvement and inforcement of laws relating to child labor, compulsory education, the eight-hour day, prevailing rate of wages, contract labor in prisons and the sanitary inspection of mines, workshops and tenements; that it should also demand the enactment of state and national laws providing for postal savings banks and postal express, ownership and operation by municipalities, the state or nation, of all public utilities; municipal ice plants; ballot reform; direct legislation through the initiative and referendum; abolition of the electoral college and direct nomination and election of president, vice president, United States senators and judges, and the modification of the use of injunctions in labor disputes. The committee did not favor a partisan political movement, but the support, particularly of congressmen, favorable to labor.

Delegate George Tracy in behalf of San Francisco union, introduced a resolution of thanks to the International Typographical union for its assistance and relief funds of $25,000.

By rising to their feet, the delegates paid a tribute to Isaac D. George, the first president of the International Typographical union.

The resolution that the International Typographical union make an organized effort in favor of international arbitration, for the peace of nations, in connection with other labor organizations, was referred to the International Typographical union delegates to the American Federation of Labor.

Proposition Turned Down.

The resolution to secure state legislation for the enactment of a law requiring a trial by jury in injunction cases was referred to the committee on resolutions, which later reported unfavorably, the report being concurred in by the convention.

The plan to strike medals commemorating the eight-hour fight was not adopted.

The resolution offered by Delegate Brady of Chicago that the vote of unions on international officers, thrown out for failure to pay their per capita tax at a specified time, be counted, caused a heated discussion participated in by President Lynch and Secretary Bramwood. The purpose of the resolution was to secure the counting of the Boston vote and thereby change the vote for [illegible]. The committee reported unfavorably and this report

CAVEIN HOLDS 50 MEN

RUSH RESCUE WORK

HORRIFYING ACCIDENT OCCURS AT CLINCHPORT, VA. RESPONSIBILITY FOR DISASTER NOT PLACED.

BRISTOL, Va., Aug. 17.—Fifty men are entombed alive in the Clinch Mountain tunnel at Clinchport, Va., as a result of a cavein which occurred today. Air is being pumped into the tunnel by several pumps for a distance of 700 feet and a large force of men are working in an effort to rescue the unfortunates before they perish, if they are not already dead.

The cavein occurred unexpectedly and it is not known why it occurred.

The men entombed are chiefly natives of the mountainous section of southwest Virginia.

The excitement and anxiety is intense. Men, women and children tonight weep at the mouth of the tunnel awaiting news of those dear to them, and pitiable scenes were enacted.

The work of rescue will progress as rapidly as possible. No bodies have as yet been recovered.

The tunnel is being driven through Clinch mountain for the Southern and Western railroad and is to be a mile in length. It has already been extended about 700 feet and the men are a considerable distance in the hole.

BRISTOL, Aug. 17.—2:40 a. m.—The telegraph operator at Alberts, Va., a small station on the Virginia and Southwestern railway, says it is reported there that three dead men have been taken from the tunnel and two others seriously injured have been found.

It is impossible to get further details for some hours owing to the remoteness of the scene of the cavein.

$25,000,000 POOL ON PACIFIC STOCK

DECLARATION OF DIVIDEND CAUSES RISE OF $11.9 SHARE IN ONE DAY ON LARGE BROKERS' ORDERS.

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—Amid scenes of frantic trading on the stock exchange, Union Pacific common stock rushed upward 12 1-8 points a share and that of Southern Pacific 6 7-8 points today after an announcement of dividends far in excess of what the traders had any reason to expect. The result was that a large number of traders who had sold stock suffered sharp losses, and according to an estimate reported by the Evening Post, a pool in Union Pacific stock realized profits amounting to $15,000,000 and a similar pool in Southern Pacific $10,000,000.

Notwithstanding the meeting of the executive committees of the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific roads in this city yesterday, the bulk of the brokers were totally unprepared for the announcement of dividends which was made public soon after the opening of today's market. The dividends were:

Union Pacific preferred, 2 per cent, semiannual, and common, 5 per cent semiannual; Southern Pacific common, 2 1-2 per cent semiannual. The Union Pacific common heretofore paid three per cent and today's dividend was the first ever declared on Southern Pacific common.

Feverish activity prevailed in the two stocks throughout the session, with various halts in the upward movement when the traders sold to realize profits. Except for these halts the upward movement in Union Pacific continued throughout the day almost to the close of the market when there was a slight reaction on profit-taking. Southern Pacific's advance, however, was halted early and held. Union Pacific's extreme advance was from 162 5-8 to 179 3-4 and Southern Pacific's from 83 7-8 to 98. Union Pacific closed at 175 1-2 and Southern Pacific at 97 3-8. The total sales of Union Pacific were 647,100 shares and those of Southern Pacific 481,600.

2,100 PRISONERS RELEASED.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 17.—According to the newspapers, 2,100 political prisoners passed through Cheliabinsk last month on their way to various destinations. It is also stated that 25,000 Jews have emigrated from Russia this year.

EAGLES NAME KRAUSE FOR GRAND PRESIDENT

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 17.—At 2:15 o'clock this morning, the tellers of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, announced that the balloting in progress since 10 o'clock last night had resulted in the election of Edward Krause of Wilmington, Del., for grand worthy president, over Henry Davis of Cleveland, present holder of that office.

ASSESSMENT REDUCED BY 2 PER CENT

PRINTERS CONSIDER THEIR EIGHT-HOUR FIGHT PRACTICALLY WON.

BATTLE, HOWEVER, WILL BE FOUGHT ON UNTIL ENEMY IS COMPLETELY ROUTED. BATTLE CRY CHANGED.

The eight hour day is won!

This was the keynote of yesterday afternoon's session of the convention of the International Typographical union when the report of the eight-hour committee was received and unanimously adopted.

To show the country that it is firm in its belief, the delegates voted unanimously to reduce the assessment which the members of the union have been paying since the beginning of the general strike on January 1, from 10 to an 8 per cent assessment.

They further decided to make several changes in the method of conducting the strike until the eight-hour day has been established in every office under the jurisdiction of the International Typographical union.

The committee reported that according to the latest figures, 38,969 members are working eight hours, 2,556 are under a nine-hour contract and 4,702 are on strike. The expense of the strike, to date, has been approximately $1,600,000, nearly all of which, except $47,515.94 received from the American Federation of Labor, has been contributed by the membership working under undisturbed conditions.

The Recommendations.

The recommendations of the eight-hour committee, all of which were concurred in by the convention, by overwhelming or unanimous votes, are as follows:

A.—That the time for enforcing the eight-hour day in Montreal, where the contract expires in October, 1906, be extended to June, 1907, the date when the Toronto contract expires, the committee believing that the conditions in Montreal warrant such a course, and that an International Typographical union organizer be assigned to Montreal for the purpose of strengthening that city, particularly the French-speaking union, No. 176.

B. Your committee further recommends, that on and after October 1, all assessments collected under authority of the International Typographical union be sent to that body intact, the purpose being to give the executive council full control of all strike moneys and disbursing the same.

C.—That the new [illegible] on the strike roll be not in excess of $7 for single men and $10 for married men, and that the constitutional benefit as it appears on the books at present of $5 and $7 be adhered to as closely, as possible, localities and contingencies arising, in the judgment of the executive council, being the sole cause for an increase over the latter amount.

Where unions desire to increase the amounts named it must be done by still further increasing the local dues, or assessments, such dues or assessments not being subject to the control of the executive council, but wholly under the direction of the local body collecting the same.

D.—That where men refuse to work because the amount refused does not entail the strike benefit, that they be cut off from the benefit list entirely, it being evident that the disposition thus shown is not in accordance with the true spirit of unionism and a desire to advance the out-of-work strike fund.

A Final Cut.

E.—Your committee has carefully considered the assessment problem in all its phases presented. It believes that in some localities money is expended economically and equitably. In others, without due regard to the sacrifices made by the membership who have financed this strike.

Your committee is firmly convinced that in the event of the assessment being forwarded intact to the executive council and disbursed under its direction, as above recommended, that the assessment can be cut to 8 per cent and to continue at that figure until the executive council considers it advisable to make a still further reduction.

F.—Your committee further recommends that in cities where 90 per cent of the membership are employed that those cities be declared eight-hour cities, the benefits cut off, the executive council rendering special assistance where deemed advisable, and that the assessment be continued as in other cities.

It is fair to presume that in ordinary times fully 10 per cent of most unions are out of work and your committee does not believe it is assuming an unwarranted position when it takes the stand that a union that has 90 per cent of its membership working today under the eight-hour day is no worse off than in ordinary times, when no great question is at stake.

Your committee believes that the executive council should open communication with English, Irish and Scotch typographical societies, with a view to becoming more closely connected in the matter of importation of strike-breaking printers.

A heart-to-heart correspondence would undoubtedly result in our foreign brothers interesting themselves in this subject and giving us important relief from what is commonly called the English invasion.

The Battle Cry.

Your committee has had under consideration the reports of the president and eight-hour committee, and has incorporated portions of the same herein.

Your committee would further recommend that the battle cry of the membership of the International Typographical union, which has been so full of hope and good cheer the past year—

GRAND ARMY INDORSES CENTENNIAL

RESOLUTION PRESENTED BY DANA AT ENCAMPMENT PASSED UNANIMOUSLY.

BIGGEST NATIONAL BOOST THE CELEBRATION HAS RECEIVED. SIMMONS IS ENTHUSIASTIC.

The biggest national boost yet given the Pike Centennial celebration was that accorded by the G. A. R. now holding its annual encampment in Minneapolis, which yesterday unanimously adopted a resolution presented by Colonel L. C. Dana, indorsing the centennial.

Word of the convention's action was received yesterday evening from Colonel Dana by Secretary Henry Russell Wray of the Chamber of Commerce, in the form of a telegram which contained the terse but significant statement:

"Passed Centennial resolution unanimously."

The moral support of the 90,000 G. A. R. veterans of the country will give the celebration enormous prestige, and only adds to the great anticipations of Secretary Wray and the enthusiastic adherents aiding him in the preparation of plans for the national celebration.

The resolution, which was prepared by Colonel Dana in his capacity as delegate to the G. A. R. convention at Minneapolis, pays a glowing tribute to the character of Brigadier General Zebulon M. Pike, and mentions the valuable service he rendered his country, both as a soldier and an explorer.

Colonel Dana, as commander of the Department of Colorado and Wyoming, some time ago issued orders for the participation of members of this department in the military parade of the Centennial, and added interest attaches to the official action of the convention.

E. G. Simmons, of Kenosha, Wis., who headed the entertainment fund of the Centennial committee by a contribution of $5,000, and who is in Manitou for a few days, is most enthusiastic regarding the coming celebration. He predicts a general assembly of people from all parts of the country at the close of the cantonery in Colorado Springs, and is optimistic in his prediction of the unqualified success of the celebration.

Mr. Simmons, who was last year elected a comrade at the G. A. R. convention in Denver, is the only man in the country who has been accorded that honor. This signal distinction was conferred because of the many patriotic acts of the recipient. For more than 30 years Mr. Simmons has annually entertained at his home in Kenosha, Wis., the members of the respective G. A. R. posts of Milwaukee, Racine and Kenosha, Wis., and Waukegan, Ill. Seventy years ago he erected in his home town a $30,000 monument to the dead soldiers of the Civil war, and has donated $7,000 to the $30,000 monument to be erected shortly in Philadelphia to the G. A. R. and its founders.

With such public spirited nonresidents as Mr. Simmons boosting for the Centennial its adherents are confident that local residents will follow the splendid example and contribute generously toward the $300,000 fund which Secretary Wray and the committee are endeavoring to raise. The committee wishes to impress upon contributors that an early response is especially of value to the committee, in order that those in charge can make plans accordingly.

A most attractive feature of the decoration during Centennial week is planned by the board of county commissioners, who will make the court-house a blaze of lights in honor of the event. Approximately 1,500 electric lights will be placed around the building. These lights will be so arranged as to distinctly outline the building, the general plan being similar to that adopted by owners of the large buildings in Denver during the recent Pike's convention.

JEWELL HELD ON MURDER CHARGE

CORONER'S JURY SAYS THAT KILLING OF STRASSHEIM WAS PREMEDITATED. FREE LYNCHING.

FORT MORGAN, Colo., Aug. 17.—The coroner's jury today found Fred Jewell, who shot and killed John Strassheim several days ago, guilty of premeditated murder.

There was a good deal of excitement here last night and today over the murder and threats of lynching were freely made. To prevent any outbreak the sheriff placed armed guards over the prisoner and the members of the local militia company were notified to be ready for service. Nothing occurred, however, and the sheriff says he will take Jewell to Denver for safe keeping.

Jewell became demented over the drowning of his child in an irrigation ditch, which was witnessed by Mrs. Strassheim whom he claimed made no effort to rescue the boy. Out of revenge, it is said, he shot Strassheim, the woman's husband. The latter died last night.

SILER TO BE REFEREE.

GOLDFIELD, Nev., Aug. 17.—George Siler of Chicago, was selected referee of the Gans-Nelson contest by the Goldfield club tonight. Should he refuse to act the selection is likely to be Jack Welch of San Francisco.

CHARGES WHOLLY REFUTED

Committee Completely Vindicates Printers Home Management.

ARRAIGN ACCUSERS

NO SUPPLIES PURCHASED FROM FIRMS HOSTILE TO UNION LABOR. REPORT UNANIMOUSLY ACCEPTED.

Complete vindication of the charges that the management of the Union Printers home has been guilty of purchasing supplies for the home from firms hostile to organized labor, was made yesterday in the report of the committee on the Union Printers home, submitted to the convention, and accepted unanimously and heartily by the delegates to the convention. To testify their firm belief in their integrity and efficiency, and to show their appreciation of the services of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Deacon, a rising vote was unanimously given by the delegates.

The report of the committee goes at length into the charges and is not only a complete vindication of the management but a severe arraignment of those who brought the charges. The report called forth extensive discussion in which the finding of the committee was heartily concurred in.

"Busybodys and Scavengers."

"These charges were made for an ulterior purpose," declared T. W. McCullough of Omaha. "They were not made with an honest purpose or they would not have tried suit to outside unions. It is a fact truth that we have in this body a number of malcontents who cannot fight a political issue without dragging it the fair name of the Union Printers home. There are no words to express my contempt for these busybodys and scavengers. They never undertake to substantiate or prove their charges. They care nothing for the character of those they attack. These are the men who have assailed the management of the home." He was loudly cheered.

N. C. O'Connor, chairman of the committee, stated that on the floor of his union he had demanded that the charges be investigated or that he came here [illegible] to the meeting.

"The results of this investigation have convinced me, beyond a shadow of a doubt, that there is not one line of truth in any statement in the circular sent broadcast by the Label league," he said. "The Union Printers home is conducted honestly and without prejudice."

No Cause for Complaint.

Delegate E. F. Backert of New York said that he had received complaints from members of his union who had been inmates of the home and that he had been instructed to make a thorough investigation and have [illegible] an impartial report.

"I and my colleagues investigated thoroughly," he said. "I can't find the least cause for complaint. I want every man to go back to his local [illegible] and the management of the home to make it a much greater institution than it is now." Delegate J. A. Gardner bore out his colleague's statements.

Miss Tessa McDonald, the Washington member of the committee, expressed herself as highly pleased at the results of the investigation and said that she was thrilled with the management of the home.

The committee's report was adopted unanimously, and with prolonged applause.

The unfavorable report of the committee on the proposition to abolish the expulsion rule, was adopted after a pointed debate between Delegate C. W. Feat of Kansas City and [illegible] Bramwood.

The report of the home committee in full, is as follows:

The Committee's Report.

To the Officers and Members of the International Typographical Union:

Ladies and Gentlemen.—Your committee on Union Printers home, to which was referred all matters pertaining to the home and its management, begs leave to submit the following report for your consideration:

The committee has had numerous propositions, both verbal and in writing, before it, and has held numerous sessions, all of which were open to all who desired to appear before it. The officers of the home and those entrusted with its management were especially desirous that a most searching investigation be made on all subjects submitted to the convention and all matters pertaining to the home.

Probably the most important matter before your committee and the one to which the closest attention of the committee was given, was a circular signed by a committee of the Woman's Label league of Colorado Springs. This circular is headed "A Protest" and a copy of it is contained in the president's report.

At the second session of the committee, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Comer, Mrs. Fowler and Miss Hawk, representing the Woman's Label league, appeared before the committee in defense of the protest sent out by them. This committee was given the fullest latitude in presenting their side of the case. They wished to be understood as making the one specific charge against the [illegible] of pauperizing in the interests of [illegible] for that institution those who are openly hostile to organized labor.

NEARY PUTS HERRERA OUT IN THE SEVENTH

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 17.—Charles Neary of Milwaukee defeated Aurelia Herrera of Bakersfield, Cal., in the seventh round of an eight-round bout before the Dadger Athletic club tonight. Herrera's seconds threw up the sponge after Neary had floored his man in the first minute of the seventh round, when it was apparent the Mexican could not get on his feet before the count of ten.

It was Neary's fight from start to finish. The Mexican was floored five times in the second round and was saved from a knockout by the gong.

RUN OVER BY COAL WAGON.

In an attempt to stop a team of runaway horses yesterday afternoon, P. L. Fish, of 908 Jackson street, Colorado City, was knocked down by the horses. The heavy coal wagon drawn by the team ran squarely over his stomach, painfully injuring him. The accident occurred at the D. & R. G. yards on South Sahwatch street.

Fish was removed to his home in the city ambulance, where he is now under a physician's care. While his injuries are considered serious it is thought that he will survive unless he has received internal injuries. The man is 24 years old, and is employed as a driver.

TWICE TOLD TESTIMONY

Colorado Springs People Are Doing All They Can for Fellow Sufferers.

Colorado Springs testimony has been published to prove the merit of Doan's Kidney Pills to others in Colorado Springs who suffer from bad backs and kidney ills. Let any sufferer doubt that the cures made by Doan's Kidney Pills are thorough and lasting, we produce confirmed proof—statements from Colorado Springs people saying that the cures they told of years ago were permanent. Here's a Colorado Springs case:

C. S. Keep, Associated Press at the Gazette office, residence 1611 North Royer avenue, says: "In the month of June, 1899, I stated through the Gazette that long before I came to Colorado Springs I knew all about Doan's Kidney Pills in the state of Massachusetts, where they are considered a household remedy. I used them several years ago for a lame and aching back which was not severe enough to lay me off work, but sufficient to cause me a considerable amount of discomfort. Since then I have used them on several occasions when symptoms or recurrences made themselves manifest. Two or three days' treatment is all that is required to ward off what might be a serious attack. Doan's Kidney Pills are one remedy which acts fully up to the representations made for it and I cheerfully reiterate the statement I made over three years ago.

Plenty more proof like this from Colorado Springs people. Call at D. Y. Butler-Brown's store and ask what their customers report.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

MOYER-HAYWOOD RESOLUTIONS PASS

Demanding Immediate Trial or Release of Western Federation Officials.

Demanding from the state of Idaho that Charles Moyer, president, and W. D. Haywood, secretary of the Western Federation of Miners, be given an immediate trial or that they be released on bonds, the convention of the International Typographical union at last night's session adopted resolutions severely criticising the state administrations of Colorado and Wyoming.

The resolution was originally proposed by Messrs. Bolz and Koop of Chicago upon instructions from union No. 16, and was reported upon favorably by the committee on resolutions. Upon amendment, the words, "false and damnable," appearing before the words "charge of murder" in the first paragraph, were struck out, and the resolution as adopted is as follows:

Whereas, The state administrations of Colorado and Idaho, evidently in collusion with the all-powerful Mine Owners' organization, have by a novel process of law, unknown to the common American citizen, kidnaped in the dead of the night, and incarcerated the leaders and officers of that steadfast organization, the Western Federation of Miners, under the charge of murder, and

Whereas, They are now denied either immediate trial or release on bonds under various subterfuges evidently in accord with prearranged plans to put these men to death and their organization out of business, be it

Resolved, That Typographical union No. 16 at its regular meeting demands of the state administration of the state of Idaho that these men, in compliance with their request, be given an immediate trial in the courts or be according to the process of law, released on bonds. Be it further

Resolved, That our delegates to the International Typographical union convention are hereby instructed to present these or similar resolutions at its next session at Colorado Springs.

ASSESSMENT REDUCED BY 2 PER CENT

We've got enough union money to continue the fight and reduce the assessment."

Chairman Knott held that while at present it would be dangerous to make a greater reduction, the reduction would finally come faster than anticipated.

The remaining sections were adopted without opposition, prolonged cheers greeting the passage of the recommendation to change the battle cry.

Delegate Stanley B. Wilson of Los Angeles made a stirring and flowery address on the motion that the entire report of the committee be accepted.

Amid the greatest applause of the convention, the adoption of the report of the committee was made unanimously.

The report covered twenty printed pages, and went exhaustively into the history of the fight.

In the introduction it said:

Your committee takes this occasion to state with unalloyed pleasure that the eight-hour day has been established. Indeed, this report might end at this point, almost before it is begun, that statement of fact being so generally well known and acknowledged fallibugn with bad grace by the United Typothetae of America, were it not deemed desirable to give a few of the details connected with a revolution of such stupendous magnitude in working conditions that its success as in gratifying results has scarcely been equaled in trades unionism since its inception.

Dealing with the injunction feature of the strike, it says:

The injunction feature of the strike has been an absorbing one and your committee hesitates to enter into the subject because of its scope. The injunction has become a club used by idolatrous capital to beat trades unionism into submission, to deprive it of all its liberties and privileges guaranteed under the constitution. The scope of the injunction appears to extend from the capital crime of murder to the commonplace salutation "good morning." It is a wrong-fint method of regulating justice. Crime should be punished under the criminal code. Picketing and persuasion are practiced in business, politics, religion and socially, and the practice of applying injunctions to trade union disputes has become a farce. The antics of judges who attempt to regulate the actions of bodies of men who are plainly within the law, by placing the stain of criminality on the most commonplace, everyday action, approaches buffoonery.

A Signal Victory.

The decision of Justice Blanchard is no less a victory for organized labor generally than for the Typographical union, in that it unequivocally establishes the right to picket and boycott, provided resort is not had to threats, intimidation, coercion, force or fraud. Had the Butterick concern been successful in its effort to make permanent the injunction granted by Justice Gildersleeve, union men could be arrested and fined or imprisoned for merely speaking to a nonunion employe.

In reference to the pressmen's strike it says:

The positions occupied by the International Printing Pressmen and Assistants union and the United Typothetae may best be described as the position of armed neutrality. In the opinion of your committee, if the International Typographical union succeeds in enforcing the remnant of the Typothetae into accepting the eight-hour day the International Printing Pressmen and Assistants union will ask for and be given the short day. If, on the other hand, the struggle between the International Typographical union and Typothetae extends to the time of the expiration of the contracts between the International Printing Pressmen and Assistants union and the Typothetae the pressmen will hardly ask for the short day, neither will the Typothetae be in a mood to grant it.

The Fight Summed Up.

In summing up the fight the committee says:

Your committee after viewing the net results of the past year, are of the opinion that they justify the efforts and expenditures made to gain them. The temper of this convention should be and we believe will be for a continuance of the struggle. Counsel should be taken together, the situation thoroughly canvassed, the methods that have been ineffective discontinued, and effective ones placed in operation. The fight can not but be to our advantage if carried on with increased efforts. The membership chips been exceptionally loyal. The great hopes of the Typothetae was in apostacy in our ranks. They were disappointed and as a result have been compelled to carry on business with inadequate, incompetent help as their frequent admissions, both public and private show. The great hope of the Typothetae is in trade schools. The results have not been satisfactory as is frequently acknowledged by the constant and insatiable search for men.

Favorable to Union.

Your committee examined these gentlemen very closely and are unanimous in the opinion that opposition to the principles of organized labor in general was farthest from their thoughts. The representative of the firm against whom the attack was most severe stated that forty-three members of the carpenters' union had open accounts with his firm.

Another member stated that a few days previous to the issue of the protest the husband of one of the signers to the protest purchased goods at his store.

Another member of the delegation stated that a few days after the issuance of the "Bolt" two of the ladies whose names appeared among those signing the circular made purchases in his store.

Your committee desires to make a personal inspection of the home on their own account, proceeded to the home grounds unannounced and inspected the [illegible] and interviewed a number of residents to ascertain as far as possible the exact conditions that surround the home and as to whether the present management of the home was acceptable to the majority of the residents thereto. The general verdict expressed by residents of our home was to the effect that it is one of the grandest institutions in the world and they were perfectly satisfied with their surroundings and hardly know how to suggest an improvement.

Attack Unwarranted.

Summing up the entire matter after hearing the large amount of evidence submitted your committee is of the decided opinion that the attack contained in the protest was unwarranted and did not charge that the union or any labor goods were purchased for the home. They admitted that union made and union label goods were purchased for the home but objected to the firms from whom they were bought. They charged certain firms with being members of the Citizens Alliance and could produce no proof other than a book of names dated February 1, 1904, to substantiate their statement.

CHARGES REFUTED

Prominent Men Testify.

In the hearing of hearing both sides to the controversy your committee requested Mr. Deacon to have representatives of the firms furnishing supplies for the home appear before the committee. At the meeting held in the Childs parlors at the home on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, the following gentlemen appeared as representatives of the firms mentioned in the charge as hostile to organized labor:

Mr. Morley of the firm of Shields-Morley Grocery Co., Mr. Giddings of Giddings-Brooks dry goods, Mr. Perkins of Perkins Crockery Co., Mr. Lowell of Lowell & Mesdivery hardware, Mr. Ferdig, Mr. Tripp, manager of the Colorado Springs Light and Power company, who kindly donated the electric display upon the home grounds Thursday evening to the entertainment committee for this convention.

The protest was read to these gentlemen and a statement was asked for and willingly given by each person present, and a sweeping and emphatic denial was made of the statement contained in the protest. They stated that at the time of the Cripple Creek trouble there was formed in this city an organization called the Citizens Alliance. This organization had for its object protection of property and had no association with any national organization. It was not opposed to organized labor as represented in Colorado Springs and particularly by the I. T. U., but was opposed to what they considered the unjust strike of the Western Federation of Miners and the unsettled local conditions following that strike. Each member of the delegation expressed himself as favorable to organized labor in general and each employed members of the various organizations represented in Colorado Springs. The gentlemen were very frank in their statements. All of them admitted that they had joined the Alliance at the time, but challenged any one to produce a better friend to the Typographical Union and its institution in this city than they had proved themselves to be. They stated that the Citizens Alliance had no further use for, being when the conditions which brought about its organization ceased to exist, and that at present so far as they knew, there was no such organization as the Citizens Alliance in this city.

Favorable to Union.

Your committee examined these gentlemen very closely and are unanimous in the opinion that opposition to the principles of organized labor in general was farthest from their thoughts. The representative of the firm against whom the attack was most severe stated that forty-three members of the carpenters' union had open accounts with his firm.

Another member stated that a few days previous to the issue of the protest the husband of one of the signers to the protest purchased goods at his store.

Another member of the delegation stated that a few days after the issuance of the "Bolt" two of the ladies whose names appeared among those signing the circular made purchases in his store.

Your committee desires to make a personal inspection of the home on their own account, proceeded to the home grounds unannounced and inspected the [illegible] and interviewed a number of residents to ascertain as far as possible the exact conditions that surround the home and as to whether the present management of the home was acceptable to the majority of the residents thereto. SCALY ECZEMA ALL OVER BODY

Eruptions Appeared on Chest, and Face and Neck Were All Broken Out—Scales and Crusts Formed—Iowa Lady Has Great Faith in Cuticura Remedies for Skin Diseases.

ANOTHER WONDERFUL CURE BY CUTICURA

"I had an eruption appear on my chest and body and extend upwards and downwards, so that my neck and face were all broken out; also my arms and the lower limbs as far as the knees. I at first thought it was prickly heat, but soon scales or crusts formed where the breaking out was. Instead of going to a physician, I purchased a complete treatment of the Cuticura Remedies, in which I had great faith, and all was satisfactory. A year or two later the eruption appeared again, only a little lower, but before it had time to spread I procured another supply of the Cuticura Remedies, and continued their use until the cure was complete. It is now five years since the last attack, and have not seen any signs of a return. I have taken about three bottles of the Cuticura Resolvent, and do not know how much of the Soap or Ointment, as I always keep them with me; probably, one half dozen of each.

"I decided to give the Cuticura Remedies a trial after I had seen the results of their treatment of eczema on an infant belonging to one of our neighbors. The parent took the child to the nearest physician, but his treatment did no good. So they procured the Cuticura Remedies and cured her with them. When they began using Cuticura Remedies her face was terribly disfigured with sores, but she was entirely cured, for I saw the same child at the age of five years, and her mother told me the eczema had never broken out afore. I have more faith in Cuticura Remedies for skin diseases than anything I know of. I am, respectfully yours, Emma E. Wilson, Lascomb, Iowa, Oct. 1, 1905."

THE CANNON BOOM.

FOR THE eighteenth time the Republicans of the Eighteenth Congressional District of Illinois have nominated the Honorable Joseph G. Cannon for Congress, and for the seventeenth time they have bestowed the honor by acclamation. This time, however, the nomination has a peculiar significance, for it is made the occasion of the formal launching of a Presidential boom for the distinguished Speaker of the House of Representatives. The press dispatches tell us that Mr. Cannon had not intended to launch the boom at this particular time, but the pressure of his supporters was so great as to sweep away his own wishes in the matter. However, all this is a mere formality, for it has been known for several months that Uncle Joe is a candidate for the Republican nomination, so it really makes little difference whether the actual announcement is made at one time or another.

In considering the Cannon boom we may start out with the perfectly safe conclusion that if he is nominated and elected he will make a good President. The country will be in safe hands. There will be no uneasiness over any "dangerous" ideas of the President. It will simply be a question of whether a man of his age can stand the severe strain for four years. And here arises the greatest difficulty in the path of those who would make Mr. Cannon President. He celebrated his seventieth birthday last May, so, if elected, he would be not quite 73 years old on the day of his inauguration and a shade under 77 at the expiration of his term.

Judged by European standards this is not an advanced age for a statesman. Bismarck and Gladstone, to cite only two notable examples, retained office and power until long after they had passed the four-score mark, and there was no indication of waning faculties until after their retirement. In this country we have now, and throughout our history have had, many conspicuous examples of octogenarian and octogenarian statesmen in active life. There are now in the Senate at least three members who are well past the eightieth milestone, Senators Morgan and Pettus of Alabama, and Senator Whyte of Maryland, and all of these are distinguished for their usefulness. But it seems to be an accepted tradition that no man shall be elected President who is much more than 65. There have been exceptions to this rule, notably William Henry Harrison, who was 68 when he assumed office, and who was two years the oldest man ever chosen President.

As a general proposition it would seem a bad thing to deprive the country of the services of so valuable a Speaker of the House merely to make a Presidential candidate when there are several other men in the Republican party who would make just as good and perhaps better candidates than Mr. Cannon, and who, if elected, as the Republican candidate almost certainly will be, might make an even better President. Secretary Taft is just now the foremost candidate, but if he should decide to accept an appointment to the Supreme bench the nomination would probably go to Secretary Root, whom President Roosevelt has characterized as the greatest man of the present time in any country. The Republican party has plenty of first-class Presidential timber with or without Speaker Cannon, but his picturesque personality will at least enliven the campaign.

THE CANAL LABOR PROBLEM.

IN PERSISTING in his unreasonable protest against the employment of coolie labor on the Panama Canal, Mr. Samuel Gompers, President of the American Federation of Labor, is either displaying an astonishing want of comprehension of the questions at issue or else is indulging in a rather cheap play to the gallery. A few days ago Mr. Gompers issued a statement in which he asserted that "those in charge of the Panama Canal construction have regard for neither law nor principle," and declared that "the existing law excludes Chinese laborers and coolies from the United States or any of its possessions. The Panama Canal Zone is an American possession, and it is as much a violation of the law to bring Chinese coolies there as it is to other portions of our country."

This question of law is fully explained by Chairman Shonts, of the Canal Commission, and unless he is guilty of deliberate falsification his explanation leaves Mr. Gompers' contention without a leg to stand on. Chairman Shonts says that the Commission is acting in accord with the opinion of the highest legal authorities in the Government, who hold that the Chinese exclusion law does not apply to the Canal Zone. This law was passed in March, 1903, and specifically provides that it shall be applicable only to territory "at that time subject to the authority of the United States." The Canal Zone was not then an American possession, for it was acquired only after the Panama revolution, which occurred during the winter of 1903-04. Congress has not extended the provisions of the exclusion law so as to embrace the Canal Zone, so it is obvious that the law can not be applied thereto.

So much for the law in the case, and an examination of the circumstances relating to the employment of labor on the Isthmus will readily show that it would be in no way desirable either to extend the exclusion law to the Isthmus or to make labor there subject to the eight-hour law which applies to Government work in this country. In the first place, if the Canal is not dug until it is dug by American labor it will not be dug at all. In the early stages of the work the Commission made repeated efforts to secure Americans, but soon found that the proposition was impracticable. While men unaccustomed to the peculiar climatic conditions of the Isthmus fall easy victims to tropical maladies, and to send them there would be to send them to almost certain death.

As soon as this fact was established beyond doubt the Commission began its search for men of other nationalities who could withstand the climate, render efficient service and what was equally important, who could be secured in sufficient numbers. The native Panamans also were the first condition, but they were indifferent workmen, nor could a sufficient supply be secured. Jamaican negroes were next imported. They were thoroughly acclimated, and the numbers were plentiful enough, but their efficiency as laborers is only from 40 to 60 per cent of that of American workmen in this country. Commissioner Shonts thinks well of the workmen from the north of Spain but it is impossible to secure enough of them to carry on the enterprise.

It has been felt for a long time by President Roosevelt, Secretary Taft, the members of the Canal Commission and others who are in a position to know, that in the end they would be compelled to turn to the Chinese. Think what we may of the Celestial as a competitor in the labor market, or as a neighbor, there is no getting around the fact that he is as industrious as a bee, he does his work thoroughly, he can live and thrive under conditions that would kill a white man, he minds his own business, and he is glad of the chance to do work which a white man wouldn't touch. This makes him beyond compare the man to do just such a dirty, death-dealing job as the construction of the Panama Canal.

Of course nobody wants any more Chinese coolies in this country than are here now—there is no room for argument on that point. The Commission is taking every precaution to guard against the possibility of any of those imported for canal service getting into this country. They will be brought to the Isthmus under an arrangement with the Chinese government under contract to work for a fixed wage and will be shipped back to China as soon as the contract expires. The labor contractors through whom the arrangement is made will be under heavy bonds for its satisfactory fulfillment.

There is not a thing connected with this matter that could in any way injure a single American laborer, and in view of all the circumstances Mr. Gompers' continued opposition is the sheerest absurdity, as is also his effort to have the eight-hour law applied to Canal workmen. These workmen prefer to work ten hours a day for they are paid by the hour and consequently earn more money. They are used to long hours of labor and as a general thing have never heard of an eight-hour day until they arrived at the Isthmus. It is utterly unreasonable to argue that because certain conditions make the eight hour day desirable in this country for American workmen, totally dissimilar conditions justify its application to a class of workmen as different from Americans as night is different from day.

THE KING AND THE KAISER.

KING EDWARD and his imperial nephew, the Emperor of Germany, are not likely to take the world into their confidence as to what passes at their meeting at Friedrichshof, but it is easy to make guesses, and with some knowledge of the political questions at issue between the countries of which they are the respective sovereigns one may speculate at will.

These royal kinsmen have never been on the best of terms, for Edward is a man of mature years and judgment who reigns over the greatest empire in the world and who naturally resents the assumptions of his impetuous nephew. This feeling has in recent years extended to the two peoples, until at the time of the Algeciras Conference last winter there was almost as much resentment against Germany in Great Britain as in France. But King Edward is a clever diplomat and knows that the interests of his country can best be served by cultivating the friendliest relations with all nations, and he is therefore cultivating Germany now just as for the last two or three years he has cultivated France. Since the conference Emperor William realizes more than ever that he, too, needs friends, and has sought in some degree to conciliate English opinion. Delegations of German bankers and editors have visited London and been royally entertained, and now the process of cementing the bonds is carried a step further by the visit of King Edward.

One of the questions at issue between Great Britain and Germany is the efforts of the latter to secure concessions with reference to the Bagdad Railway in Persia. The Kaiser wants a port on the Persian gulf as a terminus for the line, and while Great Britain probably would not oppose his acquisition merely of a commercial port it would never consent to the establishment of a German military and naval base on the Persian Gulf, such as Kiao Chau in China. It has been intimated that unless the English withdraw their objections Germany will take a hand in Egyptian affairs, but after the Kaiser's recent unpleasant experience in meddling with the Moroccan matter it is hardly probable that he will care to risk another such venture.

Another probable subject of discussion by the King and the Kaiser is the Russian situation. A few days ago it was reported that the Emperors of Germany and Austria had come to an understanding on a plan of intervention in Russia in case the revolutionists should get the upper hand of the Czar. It may be taken for granted without further information that such a scheme would be severely condemned by King Edward, for even if he were personally in sympathy with it he knows that no English government could survive which would indorse such a project. The struggle in Russia is one between despotism and liberty, and in such a matter the British people would assume only one stand. They would no more endure armed intervention by another European power to crush out Russian liberalism than the American people would indorse so monstrous a thing.

There is no telling how long the popularity of golf will last, now that John D. Rockefeller has taken to it so enthusiastically.

Premier Stolypin's "strong-handed reform" turns out to be merely strong-handed repression, just as was predicted.

LIEUT. PIKE'S DIARY

For One Hundred Years Ago Today

Monday, 18th. Arrived at Wy pot at half past five o'clock. Started at nine o'clock, breakfasted. Passed the second fork of the river at twelve o'clock, the right hand fork bearing north about thirty yards wide. The left (the one we pursued) S. 80 degrees W. and not more than fifty or sixty feet in width, very full of old trees, etc., but having plenty of water. Observed the road where the chevalier Lieutenant Wilkins had crossed. We proceeded on one o'clock when we were halted by a log laid quite across the river. Despatched Baroney to the village of the Grand Osage to procure horses to take our baggage nearer to the towns. Unloaded our boats, and in about two hours Lieutenant Wilkinson with the cavalcade arrived at our camp, the interpreter of whom presented me with an express from the General and letters from my friends. The Osages remained at our camp all night. I was attacked by a violent headache; it commenced at nine, and continued with great force until day. Distance advanced, nineteen miles and a quarter.

Colorado Comment

PURE WATER FOR GRAND JUNCTION.

From the Fort Collins Courier.

Grand Junction, the western gate city of Colorado, has voted to issue bonds to the amount of 300,000 for the purpose of securing a supply of pure mountain water and building a new water system. The water will be piped 26 miles.

DAIRY BUSINESS PAYS.

From the Pueblo Chieftain.

The dairy business is one of growing importance in Colorado, and it is one that deserves special encouragement from the state fair management. The best showing for this department ever made should be placed at the fair this year, and all concerned will profit by the results.

THE STRATTON INHERITANCE TAX.

From the Victor Daily Record.

The amount of tax to be paid to the state by the Stratton estate has been fixed by Judge Kerr of El Paso county, but, of course, the attorneys will appeal, and carry the case as far as they can in the courts. The state ought to get over $300,000 out of the tax on this estate, but the executors and their attorneys will prevent it if possible, and delay it as long as they can.

LARIMER.

From the Fort Collins Courier.

Larimer county is going straight down the line for John F. Ramer for secretary of state. There is no discount on this statement. Larimer county has not asked anything of a Republican state convention for years, but it is in the field this year good and strong for Mr. Ramer, and proposes to make itself heard in the convention hall at the proper time. Old Larimer is one of Colorado's Republican strongholds and it is only a matter of simple justice that her claims to the office of secretary of state be recognized.

A PROSPEROUS COUNTRY.

From the Fort Collins Express.

It does not require this statement from Bradstreet's to tell the story of excellent conditions prevailing throughout the country, but it makes pleasant reading just the same, for this trade journal knows the situation at all times. Bradstreet says: Sentiment in general seems to have become decidedly more optimistic, practical assurance of heavy crop yields, the growing buoyancy of the iron and steel industry, and the relatively heavy volume of orders booked in general lines for fall and winter requirements being the principal stimulus.

BIG CROPS IN LARIMER COUNTY.

From the Fort Collins Express.

The farmers of Larimer county are engaged in harvesting the biggest grain crop ever produced in this section. The crops of wheat, barley and alfalfa are simply record-breakers. Oats, beets and potatoes are also far above the average and will give tremendous yields. All indications point to the most prosperous season ever enjoyed by the husbandmen of Northern Colorado and business of all kinds is bound to be good next fall. The returns from the beet crop in this factory district alone will probably exceed $750,000.

After going over the crop situation in Larimer county carefully, Prof. W. H. Olin and Mr. B. F. Hottel are both of the opinion that about 100,000 bushels of first-class durum wheat will be produced in the county this season. A very large percentage of the total is being grown on unirrigated land and is therefore so much of an addition to the normal wheat production of the county. It may also be said that the dry land wheat compares favorably with that grown by irrigation in probable yield per acre and in quality. The department of agriculture at Washington is preparing to make a comparative test of the milling and bread-making qualities of durum wheat grown on dry land and upon irrigated land to determine which is the most valuable for these purposes.

Near to Nature

THE FUNNY COUPLE.

From the Franktown (Lack New-Era.

Will Peters and Tom Peters visited their brother, A. B. Peters of Gorman, Saturday and Sunday. Come again, boys, as we like the glee-samie.

MAGIC TOUCH OF DOC HARVEY.

From the Waynesville (Ohio) Gazette.

"The axe and oak shall wither away," but it is a sedative to the nervous system, a revival of the soul, to be in touch to love and to meet our old friend Doc Harvey again, as of yo olden time. The younger generation will appreciate this fact more as they grow older.

A LIVELY DAY IN BURLINGTON.

From the Burlington (Iowa) Hawkeye.

A crowd of about 25 people gathered near the Union depot yesterday during the noon hour, watching two sparrows fighting, the occasion being evidently as interesting as a dog fight. The little birds could not be separated by the spectators. They finally flew over the fence into the railway property, where they finished their fighting undisturbed by the spectators.

THE SCHOOLMARMS OF TITONKA.

From the Titonka (Ia.) Topic.

Jacob Hansen and his best teacher were driving westward Friday eve "just as the sun went down." Oh, Sylvia, how could you?

Tom Peterson got badly stuck in the streets of Titonka with a load of hay, but we think that isn't the only thing Tom has been stuck on.

T. J. Peterson got stuck in the streets of Titonka last Saturday. It's better to be stuck in the streets than stuck on a load of hay.

Jacob Hansen was looking after a school marm last Friday. He probably wants a cook.

HOW TO ENTER A NEWSPAPER OFFICE.

From the Kingston (Ont.) Leader-Courier.

Advance to the front door and give three distinct raps. The devil will attend your alarm. You give him your name, postoffice address and the number of years that you are owing for the paper. He will then admit you. You will advance to the center of the room, address the editor with the following countersign. Extend the right hand about two feet from the body, with the thumb and index finger clasping a $10 bill, which drops into the extended hand of the editor, at the same time saying, "Were you looking for me?" The editor will say "You bet." After giving him the news you will be obliged to retire with a receipt for the obligation properly discharged.

CONSUMPTION THREATENED

C. Unger, 211 Maple St., Champaign, Ill., writes: "I was troubled with a hacking cough for a year and I thought I had consumption. I tried a great many remedies and was under the care of physicians for several months. I used one bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar. It cured me, and I have not been troubled since." Guilty!

He who tears down for the joy of it, or for the attention he may draw toward himself, should himself be torn down. But he who points out the evils of the time and indicates how they may be remedied; he who points to the good that is being done, and the good that may be done, he, we believe, has a place in our progressive, active, strenuous, earnest American life whether he be a man or a magazine.

Just pick up the September number of Everybody's and look for the "tearing down."

See Russell how he pictures the abolition of slavery in Australia "didn't you know there was actual human slavery there six years ago? How a small body of workingmen did work too big for experienced and able legislators controlling strikes and a land-domination equal to our Trust and Railroad domination. Read Marion Melius' account of the big, broad-minded, progressive, but simple plan by which Springfield, Massachusetts, is bringing her children of low intelligence and small opportunities up to the higher level. Then Teague showing how victims of bucket-shop swindlers can recover their losses, and how bucket-shoppers can be driven out of business, leaving the field clear to legitimate investors and saving the millions, and the honor, and even the lives of good Americans.

Articles of incorporation will be filed in a few days by the Red Gulch Gold [illegible] Mining and Milling company which E G Bettis of Canon City [illegible] president and H H Harbee of Colorado Springs secretary and treasurer. A number of prominent St Joseph capitalists are interested in the new company which will be incorporated with a capital of $3,000,000. Mr Tuttle president of the company, is president and general manager of the Royal Gorge Coal company and for the last 12 years has been actively engaged in the Cripple Creek district. Mr Barbee is one of the best known mining engineers in the state. The other members of the board of directors are as follows William Hilke, St Joseph Mo H E Angelbeck, St Joseph Mo., W Lucas St Joseph Mo H R Lyon Kansas City, Mo., and J W Loomis Neenah, Wis

The company has been formed by the consolidation of the Red Gulch Copper Mining and Milling company and a number of companies operating in the Silver Park Mining Co. in Custer county. The new company has 11 full claims which are now being developed with a 100-foot shaft with three levels all of which is running ore. The ores are crystallized ash oxide and copper glance. The ore vein which has a width of four feet [illegible] ries values of from four to 65 per cent copper and 14 1-2 per cent carbon which makes it a self-fluxing ore. They say that it will be the making of one of the finest copper mines in the country.

In addition to this property, the company has acquired the option held by E. G. Bettis on the John Gudrejeski gold mine, located in Silver park. A contract has been let for a 100-foot shaft and a 50-foot drift

WOMAN'S INTERNATIONAL AUXILIARY CONVENTION ENDS

The Woman's International auxiliary closed one of the most successful conventions in its history yesterday afternoon when the fourth annual convention came to a close in Woodmen hall at 4:45 o'clock. Presentations of gifts to the retiring president to the secretary-treasurer and a number of the officers of the local auxiliary, occupied the greater part of the closing session. Mrs. Donnell, the retiring president, was presented with a beautiful silver tea set. With a few well-chosen words she thanked the donors for the gift and presented the local auxiliary with a clock and water pitcher, telling them that she presented that gift that they might know when to go home and refresh themselves with a drink of water. Secretary McKee was also presented with a silver tea service. The local auxiliary gave Mrs. Donnell and Mrs. McKee each a solid silver spoon, on the bowl of which was engraved a picture of the Union Printers home. On the end of the handle was engraved "Colorado" and the motto of the state, "Nil Sine Numine—nothing without divine guidance." Mrs. Frazier, fourth vice president, gave Mrs Donnell a breast pin, while Mrs McKee was remembered with a comb set with pearls. Mrs Snyder president of the local auxiliary and Mrs Charles Carter the new first vice president were each given a beautiful hand-painted plate as a token of appreciation of the way in which the visitors have been entertained.

The label committee reported and outlined a course to be followed during the year by the local auxiliaries. A resolution providing for a death benefit was defeated. The convention passed a resolution providing for the appointment of the chaplain and guide instead of electing them as before. A referendum of laws and elections was perfected. The following officers were installed and the convention adjourned:

Mrs. A. W. Bowen, Washington D. C. president; Mrs. D. McDougal, Toronto, Mrs W. B. Ogden, Cincinnati, Mrs. Charles Carter Colorado Springs and Mrs George Frazier, Baltimore, vice presidents; Mrs C. E. McKee Indianapolis, secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Bert Cole, Omaha, chaplain, and Mrs Neal Crowley, Pueblo, guide.

L. C. ALMOND SAFE

DID NOT FALL IN BOTTOMLESS PIT ON PIKE'S PEAK.—HE POSES TO POLICE

"My name is L. C. Almond. I'm from Denver. The papers say that I have fallen into the Bottomless pit on Pike's Peak. I have—but not yet. I have been resting from my hard walk up the Peak at a Manitou hotel. You need not look for me further. Because I don't like to have my name dragged down in a bottomless pit."

Thus did L. C. Almond introduce himself at the police station yesterday between short laughs. Mr. Almond had been reported as lost in the Bottomless pit by a friend and the police had been searching for him. Mr. Almond says that he walked down the Peak yesterday and immediately rented a room at Manitou and retired for a 12-hour sleep, being too tired to come to his room in the Springs.

At every mention of "the Bottomless pit" Mr. Almond burst forth in hilarious laughter. He says that he will have a picture of this pit, one of himself, and clippings from the papers, telling of his strange disappearance framed together for future reference.

RESOLUTIONS EXPRESSING APPRECIATION OF HIS AID IN LIGHT-HOUR FIGHT ARE PASSED

[illegible] The Hearst resolution was presented by Delegate Reiste and was reported by the committee. The resolutions which are nine in all, are as follows:

Whereas, The International Typographical union in its efforts to secure for its members an eight hour day and union shop the only salvation of the trade union movement, have had no better friend to aid them in their struggle to put the printing trade on an eight hour basis than that able true and fearless champion of the rights of the American workingman—through the medium of his several publications William Randolph Hearst of New York, therefore be it

Resolved, That the International Typographical union in convention assembled desire and do hereby express to William R. Hearst its sincere thanks for his noble, generous and persistent effort on his part to secure for the members of the International Typographical union a universal eight-hour work day, and be it further

Resolved, That the International Typographical union also appreciates the value of the services of newspapers in many parts of the country and especially of the labor press in behalf of the union and its eight hour fight.

ARRANGING FOR BIG CONVENTION

DENVER PARTY COMING TODAY TO MAKE FINAL PREPARATIONS FOR ENTERTAINING NEWSPAPER MEN.

A committee consisting of Edward Keating, editor of the Denver News and Times, Fred Kasdorf of the Denver Post, Lute Johnson, of the Denver Republican, Charles F. Roehrig of the Denver office of the Associated Press, H. S. Rogers, of the Denver Republican, H. H. Buckwalter and Quartermaster General Lee of the First battalion of the Colorado National guard, will arrive in Colorado Springs today to complete arrangements with the Pike's Peak Press club, of this city, for the entertainment of the 600 newspaper men who will be here August 31. The committee will remain here over Sunday, and every detail of the entertainment planned by the Springs newspaper men will be gone over.

Besides the Bohemian night to be given in the Garden of the Gods on the night of August 31, a trip over the Short Line to Cripple Creek and probably a trip up Pike's Peak will be given the visitors. The newspaper men will also probably accept an invitation to visit South Cheyenne canon.

The trip up Pike's Peak has not been definitely decided on as yet as Glenwood Springs and Grand Junction have offered liberal concessions to the newspaper writers should they take the trip to these places. While the Denver committee is in town today and tomorrow it will be definitely settled as to whether the trip up Pike's Peak or that to Glenwood Springs will be taken.

The visitors will be delegates to the convention of the International League of Press clubs and will include the most prominent newspaper men in the country.

PORTLAND STOCK ON THE TOBOGGAN

[illegible] The Times-Post-Dispatch [illegible] the stock, has been [illegible] the [illegible] quoted decline several weeks ago. The price for months prior to that had been maintained around $1.50. In a single call the price slumped $1.25 sales were made for weeks thereafter at $1.40 and $1.50 and a few days ago the price dropped to between $1.30 and $1.40. Yesterday a decline of $1.— with the closing bid and ask still weaker, in a decided surprise to many men. Inquiry at the Portland office developed no cause for the drop in price. It is said that the physical condition of the mine was never better and there is nothing in the company's affairs to warrant any slump. A full production is being maintained and the mill in West Colorado Springs is running at full capacity.

MEN PAST SIXTY IN DANGER.

More than half of mankind over sixty years of age suffer from kidney and bladder trouble, usually enlargement of the prostate gland. This is both painful and dangerous and Foley's Kidney Cure should be taken at the first sign of danger, as it corrects irregularities and has cured many old men of this disease. Mr. Rodney Burnett, Rockport, Mo., writes: "I suffered with enlarged prostate gland, then kidney trouble for five years and after taking two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure feel better than I have for twenty years, although I am now 81 years old." ARLINGTON'S COMEDIANS IN CHERRY VALLEY.

Arlington's Comedians will give two performances at the opera house today—a souvenir matinee this afternoon at 2:30, and this evening. The play will be the comedy drama entitled "Cherry Valley." The scenes of the play are laid in Virginia. The company presented the well known drama "Leah the Forsaken" last evening to a crowded house—it proved to be the strong production presented by Arlington's comedians during their engagement here. The play is replete with stirring climaxes and startling situations, and the cast was equal to every demand made upon it. Georgia Hatfield, an emotional actress of ability, played the part of Leah in a manner which places her among the best. Mayme Sinclair was cast with versatility by the part of Mary, and with she played Madame Cecil Hatfield by his clever [illegible] as the Jew "Nathan" [illegible] and one of the [illegible] that has appeared [illegible] work always [illegible] clever in the [illegible] Frederick and Jack Fraser as [illegible] with Riedel musical [illegible] was a dignified and satisfactory [illegible] of the com[illegible] well.

HIGH-GRADE STREAK IN GERMANIA LODE

GEORGETOWN, Colo., Aug. 17.—A nice streak of high-grade ore is showing in the drift now being run in the Alaska lode, and cut in the Alaska tunnel, owned by Frank Waters, and a number of leasers mining there. The ore was made the discovery of above the tunnel from the portal of the lower stope, and the ore shoot widens as it goes down. Assays in silver to the ton of ore, according to the Queen lode was recently encountered. And it looked as if large quantities would be encountered in the near future. The property is located on Leavenworth mountain, and the vein on the sixteenth lodes measures 26 feet from wall to wall, where intersected.

SARATOGA DISCOVERY GIVES ASSAYS OS $171

IDAHO SPRINGS, Colo., Aug. 17.—The outlook of the Saratoga mine continues to improve. A large streak recently opened assays 7 ounces in gold with sufficient silver to make the gross value approximate $171 a ton. This find was made at a depth of over 1200 feet and over 1000 feet in the lateral east of the Newhouse tunnel. The streak is 16 to 20 inches wide and is directly below the old stopes of the eighth, ninth and tenth levels. It is beyond the main ore shoot, but has been reached. The streak has been exposed along the running wall for some distance.

was concurred in by the convention.

Resolutions of thanks were extended to Delegates J. M. Kreiter of Washington and B. Frank Swigart of St. Louis for their work in originating and conducting the book donation scheme for the Printers home.

The resolution of Delegate Bergen of the Milwaukee News Writers to the effect that the militia is a machine for the subjugation of the working classes and that local unions should instruct their members not to join it until the Switzerland system be adopted was reported upon unfavorably and the report was concurred in by the convention.

Not Pay Assessment.

Appeals from Centralia union, No. 479, Hamilton union and the Butte News Writers union for relief from the ten per cent assessment were all unfavorably reported upon by the committee on appeals, the convention concurring in the committee's report in the case of the two former, and referring the third to the executive council with power to act.

A resolution from Galveston union, extending its sympathy to San Francisco union was read and spread upon the minutes.

The afternoon session was taken up with the hearing of the Butte News Writers union, and the reports from the eight hour and Union Printers home committees.

In the evening, when the first night session of the convention was held, the first resolution considered was one petitioning President Roosevelt to insist upon the rigid enforcement of the eight-hour law in the government printing office. After much debate a substitute was adopted providing that whenever, on trustworthy evidence, it is demonstrated that the eight-hour law is being broken, President Lynch present the matter to President Roosevelt.

Salaries Allowed.

Upon recommendation of the committee on returns and finances, salaries of $65 each were voted the members of the laws committee, $100 to the assistant secretary, $75 to the reading clerk and $25 to the sergeant-at-arms and to the messengers.

The committee on government ownership of the telegraph recommended that the delegates, through their unions, urge upon their congressmen the support of the bill to come before congress at its next session.

The organization of label leagues was endorsed and subordinate unions were urged to extend all efforts for the organization and encouragement of such leagues.

By a rising vote, the convention pledged its friendship to the Farmers unions of Texas.

The names of a large number of ex-delegates who had "rated" were ordered stricken from the list.

An immigrant resolution was passed urging the United States congress to exclude Japanese and Korean labor, as well as Chinese.

OPERATIONS SUSPENDED.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Aug. 17.—Operations on the Home fraction on Ironclad hill, under lease to Lew A. Hayden and associates, have been suspended temporarily on account of an inflow of surface water. It is proposed to resume sinking later in the fall when the water factor will have been eliminated.

This is an unusual proceeding, but is not explained.

None of the private messages coming from Valparaiso, some of them responses to messages of inquiry as to the safety of relatives or friends, make mention of serious loss of life.

Buenos Ayres is still cut off from Chile.

The principal bankers of Valparaiso are Edwards & Co., Grace & Co., Williamson, Balfour & Co., the Bank of Chile, the Bank of Chile and Germany, the German Trans-Atlantic bank, the Spanish Bank of Chile, the Hipotreario, the Italian bank, the Mobiliario bank, the National bank, the Bank of Santiago and the Bank of Tarapaine and Argentina.

The shipping companies of Valparaiso include the New York and Pacific Steamship company, the Pacific Steam Navigation company, the West Coast line, the Gulf line, the Viola Steamship company, the Chilean Navigation company and the Lamport and Holt line.

Among the leading commercial houses are W. R. Grace & Co., the Chilean Trading company, James and Alexander Brown, R. W. Bailey & Co., C. Kirkisinder & Co., Edmondson, Cox & Co., H. H. Bert Jones & Co., the French Commercial society, J. S. Tusche & Co., Aguilar, Braga & Co., Davis & Co., Weigand & Co., G. B. and Paul Gazzo, Graham, Rowe & Co. and Weir, Scott & Co.

BUENOS AYRES, Aug. 17.—(6 p. m.)—In the absence of telegraphic communication beyond Puento Del Inca it has been impossible up to this hour to obtain accurate details of the destruction by the earthquake in Chile. The managers of the telegraph companies here state that nothing is coming through. Press reports purporting to come from Chile are purely imaginary. London and New York are eagerly seeking for news from the affected district. Officials of the Pacific railway say that it is their belief that the damage at Valparaiso is not nearly so serious as has been stated, but they express fear that the town of Los Andes has been destroyed.

BUENOS AYRES, Aug. 17.—A newspaper tonight publishes the telegrams from Mendoza which is an entry port for the trade between Buenos Ayres and Chile to the effect that many houses in the Los Andes district were destroyed by the earthquake and that there has been a large number of casualties. The interruption of all means of communication with Chile causes much anxiety. Many reports of disaster are afloat.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—Washington is without advices tonight regarding the disaster. The Chilean minister is absent, and Senor Don Manuel J. Vegas, the charge, is much concerned over the earthquake.

WHEAT IS FIRM; BREAK IN CORN

CATCHING PIT TRADERS SHORT, PRICES ARE FORCED UP AND DECLINE IN CORN HAS EFFECT.

CHICAGO, Aug. 17. The wheat market opened strong on a lively demand by shorts and commission houses. A sharp advance in the price of wheat at Liverpool came as a surprise to the majority of pit traders, many of whom had sold short the previous session, and in an attempt to cover the short sales prices were forced up materially, the September delivery showing a gain of one-half to three-fourths on initial transactions. The strength of the Liverpool market was said to have been due to a continuance of wet weather in Great Britain, and to small shipments of wheat from Argentina. The total movement for the week from the South American republic was 856,000 bushels, compared with 2,576,000 bushels the previous week. As the session advanced the market was further strengthened by a report from St. Petersburg to the effect that wheat was being imported into Russia from Germany. Late in the day sentiment lost much of its bullishness, owing to a sharp decline in the price of corn. The close, however, was firm. September opened one-half to three-fourth cents higher, at 75¾c to 76c, sold off to 75¼c, and closed at 75⅝@¾c.

Likelihood of a material increase in movements caused liberal profit taking in September corn, and resulted in a break of over one cent a bushel in the price of that delivery. Weather was entirely favorable to the rapid development of the new crop. Although cash houses disagreed as to the amount of receipts, indications pointed to larger receipts in the near future. The market closed weak. September opened a shade to one-fourth to one-eighth cents higher at 46¾c to 46¾c, sold off to 45c and closed at 45½@45¾c.

Local weather and large receipts, both local and at other primary points, had a weakening effect on the oats market. Cash houses were the principal sellers. September opened unchange to one-eighth cent higher at 30¾c to 30⅝c, sold off to 29¾c, and closed at 29¾c.

The feature of trading in provisions was profit taking in pork by local longs. This had a depressing effect on the entire line. A five-cent advance in the price of live hogs had a steadying effect early in the day. At the close, September pork was off twenty-seven and one-half cents at $17. Lard was down two and one-half cents at $9.67½. Ribs were five cents lower at $8.30.

SOCIETY WOMEN IN CONVENTS.

The conversion of Princess Ena to Roman Catholicism recalls how many members of the "old faith" are still to be met with in the smart drawing rooms of London. Among those who have recently joined the Roman Catholic faith may be mentioned Theodosia Lady Cottenham and her daughter Lady Mary Pepys. The latter is noted as a singer, a French chorus and an amateur actress, and has studied under Mme. Thenard, of the Comedie Francaise. The Hon. Mary and Hon. Margaret Russell, daughters of the late Lord Russell, of Killowen, are now both nuns in the convent of the Holy Child at Mayfield, Sussex, and also the Hon. Violet Gibson, the pretty daughter of Lord and Lady Ashbourne. The duke of Norfolk has two sisters who are nuns. Lady Mary Howard belongs to the Poor Clares order and Lady Etheldreda Howard is a Sister of Charity. Lady Edith Fitzalan is also in Lord Denbigh, is another Sister of Charity, and cheerfully fulfills exile at a convent in China. Lady Maria Christina Bampfylde, daughter of Lord Newbigh, is at a Sacre Coeur convent on the Continent; Lady Frances Bertie, sister to Lord Abingdon, resides in a convent; Hatton, and Lady Leopoldina Kerr, sister to Lord Abercorn, is a nun of the Sacred Heart.

Foolish

You are foolish to strain your eyes to read ordinary type when a pair of our perfectly fitted "made to order" glasses will make all print as plain as day. You not only cause yourself much discomfort, but you do your eyes an injury and put yourself at a disadvantage in these days of keen competition. The eyes do not always give evidence of their extra effort. Headaches, nervousness and some stomach troubles indicate eye strain. Let us put you and your eyes right—it costs nothing to find out.
